John,

As requested

I have used SHEilds on many occasions both on behalf of my company and also personally for my Level 4 NVQ in Occupational Health and Safety Practice. The learning format and materials are well presented and at all times I have felt assured of their best attention and found the NVQ process to be challenging yet enjoyable. The support offered was of the highest quality and ever present. Where required, explanations and examples were clear and concise which has been a significant contributing factor to successful completion of all courses our company has undertaken.

I can recommend SHEilds for any course, given numerous experiences of learning with them and our company continues to use them for many of our training needs.

Regards
