Who is this for?

People with health & safety responsibilities, typically in entry and mid-level management roles. It is additionally recommended that learners have already completed an IOSH Managing Safely qualification as a foundation.

Overview

The NEBOSH National General is a qualification designed to help those with health and safety responsibilities (e.g. managers, supervisors and employee representatives) to discharge more effectively their organisational duties and functions.

The NEBOSH National General covers the main legal requirements for health and safety in the UK, identification and control of workplace hazards, and the practical application of this knowledge. The qualification can also serve as a first step in a health and safety career, providing a solid basis for further professional study and development.

Did you know?

By completing the IOSH Managing Safely course prior to undertaking this qualification you will have a better underpinning knowledge of the core subject; therefore making you better prepared for your NEBOSH studies.
